company profiles

Founded in 2005, Vibrant Development Group's mission is to help casino operators craft a successful and marketable retail, dining and entertainment experience.

Vibrant Development Group handles the business end of creating successful retail, dining and entertainment spaces. From contracts to concepts, the company works with each client to ensure the best deal possible.

Founder and President Chuck Bragitikos is currently working with Revel Entertainment and Morgan Stanley on a beachfront casino property that is being developed in Atlantic City. He is also advising Boyd Gaming on RD&E-related issues.

Bragitikos has previously worked with Aztar, former owners of the Tropicana brand in Atlantic City and Las Vegas.

Bragitikos and his colleague, co-founder and principal Jason Spillerman, at Vibrant Development Group work with casino executives to develop a concept and business strategy for an RD&E space, such as the Quarter project at the Tropicana in Atlantic City, which combined retail, dining and entertainment in a themed environment.

Spillerman specializes in mixed-use developments, and oversees due diligence, financial feasibility, conceptualization, master planning, business strategy, programming, new venue creation, partnering strategy, project merchandising, rent roll definition and leasing as a principal for Vibrant Development Group.

Vibrant is hands-on in securing celebrity chefs or famous concepts to license in a casino property, as well as partnering with independent contractors to bring their business into a resort.

Vibrant even works with an existing food-and-beverage program to develop their assets and re-energize the property.

Vibrant Development Group has worked with companies of every sector, from hospitality to sports to local government, and has brought successful RD&E ventures to every entity with which they work.

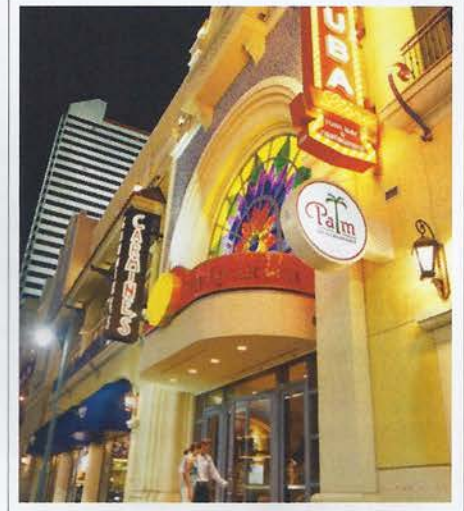

The company is currently leading the team responsible for strategy, concept and programming for the Tropicana Casino and Resort redevelopment project in Las Vegas. Bragitikos will act as owner's representative and lead the team in charge of design and leasing for the property's remodel.

Vibrant Development Group has a national presence, with a portfolio that includes casino properties in Arizona, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Florida and Indiana, as well as top clients in Las Vegas and Atlantic City.

Cagley & Tanner is an interior design firm headquartered in Las Vegas specializing in both high-end residential design and high-end resort and casino design.

The firm has extensive experience making spaces with unique emotional content, creating the kind of surroundings that feel at once exciting and different as well as comforting and familiar.

They design rooms that have more than a sense of place; they have personality, character, style and an optimistic approach to modernism. Their work is minimalist while still inspiring emotions within their client's patrons. The spaces Cagley and Tanner have designed are sexy and sharp with clean lines and beauty all around.

Working in concert with many of the best architects in the world, Cagley & Tanner have been responsible for some of the most famous public spaces anywhere.

Lee Cagley and Sean Tanner are the principals of the firm, which has designers of long standing with more than 30 years of experience in the field of interior design, as well as young, talented professionals with unique and unconventional ideas.

The firm's current client list includes resort hotel, residential and gaming interiors worldwide. Some of Cagley and Tanner's recent projects include work on the Bellagio, Paris and Flamingo casinos in Nevada, as well as upcoming design work on the SugarHouse casino in Pennsylvania and the Mondrian in Las Vegas.
